

The 5th Annual Meeting ‘Association of Behavioral Economics and Finance Incentive Award’

Presentation Ceremony

(Held on December 10th and 12th , 2011)

Association of Behavioral Economics and Finance has instituted ‘Incentive Award’, starting at the 4th Annual Meeting, for growth of the study in the field and to cultivate and prize younger researchers. Among 26 presentations of Regular Sessions, 14 candidates are examined, and the following 2 presentations won the award this year. The ceremony will be held at 6th Annual Meeting.

Winner 1 : Takeshi Aida (University of Tokyo)

Presentation Title : Incentives and Social Preferences in a Traditional Labor Contract: Evidence from Rice Planting Field Experiments in the Philippines

(Jun Goto, Takeshi Aida, Keitaro Aoyagi, and Yasuyuki Sawada)

Winner 2 : Ryuichi Yamamoto

(National Chengchi University)

Presentation Title : Strategy Switching in the Japanese Stock Market

(Ryuichi Yamamoto, Hideaki Hirata)